When Plans Change

My name is _____. I like to know what is going to happen.

Sometimes a plan changes. It might rain, or someone might be sick.

A change can make me feel upset or worried.

A grown-up can tell me what is different and what stays the same.

I can say, "I do not like this change." That is okay to say.

I can look at the new plan, or ask for some quiet time.

After a while, the new plan may feel easier.
