Getting a Haircut

My name is _____. My hair grows, so sometimes it gets cut.

I sit in a tall chair. A cape keeps the hair off my clothes.

The scissors make a snipping sound. Clippers may buzz.

Cutting hair is different from cutting skin. I may feel a tickle.

I can hold something soft or listen to music.

I can ask for a short break.

Small hairs may fall on me. They can be brushed off.

When it is finished, I can look in the mirror.
